

SICK FROM WAITING?

Kaiser Permanente members are already waiting weeks and even months to get critically needed outpatient care. These delays not only cause more suffering, but can threaten your life.

Still, Kaiser San Rafael plans to lay off 42 registered nurses and nurse practitioners from its clinics — even when the giant corporation made nearly $13 billion in 2024 alone!

- Kaiser brought in $115.8 billion in operating revenue last year, up nearly 15% from 2023. The nonprofit system and health plan recorded net income of $12.9 billion, more than triple the $4.1 billion recorded the year prior. Risant's acquisitions accounted for half of Kaiser's net income and 40% of its revenue growth, a spokesperson said.
